

It takes a lot to get me out of Sydney in August.

I'm usually happy at home watching the Sea Eagles close in on yet another Premiership.

This year, things will be different though – not in regard to the Manly Premiership you understand – but more with regard to my whereabouts.

You see, between 31st July and 7th August, I will be taking my annual leave in Africa, climbing a very high mountain with Sir Edmund Hillary's son.

And no, I haven't got altitude sickness!

The said mountain is 'Mt Kilimanjaro' and, at a rather daunting 5,895m, it's the highest peak on the continent.

It's also home to three volcanic cones, which may or may not be active!

I will be lacing up my climbing boots for an extremely worthwhile cause – The Humpty Dumpty Foundation – which provides vital, life saving equipment for sick kids.

And this is where you come in; you see, I'm on the hunt for a tough-as-nails Sherpa to help me negotiate the trickiest parts of the climb close to Kilimanjaro's windswept and oxygen-thin summit.

If for any reason you're unavailable to help a mate out that week don't worry, you can be there with me in spirit with just a small donation to the Humpty Dumpty Foundation.

I'm hoping to raise $50,000 for this wonderful cause, and any help you can give will be truly appreciated.

If you click on the link below, you'll be taken to my fundraising web page where you can find out more about how to help.

http://www.everydayhero.com.au/nick_tobin

Help get Nick up the mountain!

Fundraising event for the 2010 Humpty Dumpty Kili Climb

7pm – 10.30pm, Tuesday 20 July

Chatswood RSL Auditorium
446 Victoria Avenue and
1 Thomas Street, Chatswood

Live band, auctions, raffles and special guest performers.

$40 entry includes beer, wine and finger food and a $20 tax deductible donation to the Humpty Dumpty Foundation.

Kids $20 ($10 donation).

RSVP by Friday 16 July on 0418 840 090
or email lesleyt@bigpond.net.au

Tickets available at the door.